

TIAA Supports United Way Campaign

After raising more than $100,000 for the United Way in 2011, the TI Alumni Association is now running the 2012 fundraising campaign. Ronnie Brandenburg and Lewis McMahan are again co-chairing the TIAA United Way campaign.

TIAA members can support the campaign and give back to the community through either purchasing a TIAA cookbook, donating or volunteering with United Way.

“Every donation counts, and together they all really add up. Even a $5 donation makes an impact,” said George Consolver, TIAA president. “With TI CEO Rich Templeton chairing this year’s United Way Metropolitan Dallas effort, I encourage all TIAA members to make this a banner year for retiree donations and volunteer support.”

Buy TIAA Cookbooks

One way to support the campaign is by purchasing TIAA cookbooks for family and friends. Since the TIAA underwrote the production costs, 100 percent of the proceeds will go to the United Way.

“As a member of the cookbook committee, I’d like to see us sell all of the cookbooks so TIAA can send $10,000 to United Way,” Ronnie Brandenburg said.

The cookbooks will be available at the annual TI Retiree Luncheon on Nov. 1 at the Mesquite Convention Center. Ordering instructions are being announced in the TI Alumni eNews and included in the luncheon invitation mailing.

Pledge and Volunteer

Another way to support the 2012 campaign is to donate or pledge directly to the United Way. Go to www.unitedwaydallas.org/TIAA and click on Pledge Now. Or, if you prefer, send your check – payable to United Way – to TIAA/United Way, P.O. Box 740181, Dallas, TX 75374. You can designate that your gift be applied to your local community or a United Way service provider.

TIAA members can also explore volunteer options and sign up for a United Way opportunity. For more information, go to www.unitedwaydallas.org/volunteer to find an area to serve that matches your interests and abilities.

To learn more about volunteer opportunities, you can also stop by the United Way booth at the TI Retiree Luncheon or contact Barbara Taylor, TIAA Community Involvement Team co-chair, at be_taylor@verizon.net, or Jessica Stewart, TIAA administrator, at admin@tialumni.org.

Lewis McMahan, TIAA United Way co-chair, has been part of United Way’s fund-allocation process for more than 15 years.

“I’ve visited many agencies and their clients and am humbled by the great work they do every day in our community,” Lewis said. “As much as we do, there is always more work to be done. That’s what motivates me to stay involved.”

TIAA leadership will report on the results of the 2012 TIAA United Way campaign at the TI Retiree Luncheon and in future TIAA communications.

To learn more about the United Way, along with its goals and programs for improving education, income and health for those in need in our community, go to www.unitedwaydallas.org.

TIAA Teams With Active TI Golfers to Benefit Charities

The winning team at the TIAA/Texins Charity Golf Tournament — Jacob Kline, Andrew Braun, Adam Braun, and Dave Youngblood

The 2012 TIAA Charity Golf Tournament was combined with the Texins Association Annual Golf Tournament for active Tiers. The result was a larger and better charity golf tournament on Sept. 21 at the Woodbridge Golf Club in Wylie, TX.

The tournament raised more than $20,000 for two worthwhile charities: the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation (JDRF) and The Senior Source. TI and the Texans Credit Union were underwriters for the tournament, so that 100 percent of the donations went directly to the charities.

TI Retiree Tony Adams, filling in for Courtney Miller, tournament co-chair, presented a check to representatives of The Senior Source. He expressed appreciation to all the golfers, individual and corporate donors, and volunteers who made the tournament a success. Legend Sponsors for the tournament included:

Edward Jones & Co./Jerry Pierce, CFP; Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Texas; Morgan Stanley Smith Barney/James Aughenbaugh; The University of Texas at Dallas; and Wells Fargo Advisors/Mike McChesney.

At the awards ceremony after the tournament, TI Retiree Tom Boedecker presented donations from active Tiers to a representative from the JDRF. Tom has been an active supporter of JDRF for many years.

Only one stroke separated the top two teams in the tournament. The team of active Tiers composed of Jacob Kline, Andrew Braun, Adam Braun, and Dave Youngblood won top prize in the tournament. For complete results and more details, see the golf story on the TIAA website at www.tialumni.org.

Profile: TIAA President George Consolver

George Consolver brings over four decades of Texas Instruments leadership experience to his volunteer job as TI Alumni Association president.

A native of Wichita, KS, George completed a bachelor’s degree in math and physics at Southwestern Oklahoma State University, Weatherford, attending on an academic and football scholarship.

Long TI Career

George joined TI in 1968 in Dallas as a software engineer in Military Computer Systems, where he developed software for the U.S. Navy Satellite Radio Navigation System SRN-9.

From 1968 through 1975, George held leadership positions in computer and software development for the Navy, U.S. Air Force electronic warfare airborne computers, and advanced distributed processor/memory systems.

Then, from 1976 through 1979, George led the computer hardware and software development team for TI’s Global Positioning System (GPS) user equipment contracts for man-portable, aircraft, and missile demonstrations. From 1979 through 1981, George was responsible for GPS new business development. From 1981 to 1985, he served in business development and strategy management positions in communications, navigation, and avionics sensors.

From 1986 to 1991, George was manager of Strategic Planning & Mission Analysis, and deputy strategy manager for Avionics Systems with responsibility for new business concepts for advanced radar, electro-optical, communications, and digital signal processing systems.

From 1991 to 1994, George was director of Communications and Planning for TI’s defense electronics business. He was co-leader for customer satisfaction in TI’s winning the 1992 Malcolm Baldrige U.S. National Quality Award. In 1993-94, he led defense systems and other TI business leadership teams through strategy processes to craft business unit visions

Events

TIAA Major Event

Nov. 1, TI Retiree Luncheon – Thursday, 9:30 a.m. - 2:30 p.m., Mesquite Rodeo & Convention Center. The theme of this year's luncheon is "Celebrating the 40th Anniversary of the Datamath Calculator". Melendy Lovett, President of TI Education Technology and TI Senior Vice President will be the featured speaker. Education Technology will have a display of TI's latest products, along with some historical calculators and learning aids on loan from the collection of Gene Frantz, TI Principal Fellow. If you missed the regular registration, you can still register at the door at $25 per individual. Don't miss this once-a-year opportunity to catch up on the news, enjoy visiting with friends and former associates and hear an update on TI's business.

Community Involvement Events

Nov. 9, North Texas Food Bank – Friday, 8:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m., Dallas. TIAA Volunteers will help to sort and shelve canned goods, bag food for recipients and other assorted duties. CIT is doing this for CitySquare; our donated hours will count towards free food for the CitySquare Food Bank which is partially supplied by the North Texas Food Bank. Afterwards, we will have lunch at our own expense and return to Texins about 1:30 p.m.

Dec. 4, Meals On Wheels – Tuesday, 9:30 a.m. - 2:30 p.m., Dallas. CIT will be gift wrapping presents for Meals on Wheels Dallas-area residents who are in the program. These gifts help to brighten everyone's Christmas! Transportation will be provided as well as lunch for all CIT volunteers gift wrapping that day. Bring friends and explore the Visiting Nurses' Association and the beautiful kitchen.

January, White Rock Center of Hope – 8:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m., Garland. The White Rock Center of Hope is a community coalition of individuals, civic and social organizations, and over 50 member churches united to provide emergency aid and steps toward self-sufficiency to their neighbors in the White Rock Lake area. Volunteer to help with sorting food, working in the thrift shop and other tasks around the center. Afterwards, we will have lunch at our own expense and return to Texins about 1:30 p.m.

Tech Smart Big Heart Event

Continuing through Nov. 21, TI Weeks at the Arboretum – Monday - Friday only. The Arboretum is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. TIAA members can get free admission for themselves and up to five guests. Just show your retiree badge or a copy of this eNews item.

Tech Smart Big Heart events are open to retired Tiers and other TIAA members. Contact Jasmine Ng at jasmine@ti.com or 214-567-4436 to confirm date and details.

The Senior Source Activities

Senior Connection (Support group for job seekers) – 10 - 11:30 a.m., first and third Thursdays at The Senior Source, 3910 Harry Hines Blvd., Dallas. For more information on The Senior Source programs, visit www.theseniorsource.org.

For more information on the programs and services of The Senior Source, visit www.theseniorsource.org.

UT Dallas Spirit Team taught TIAA members how to "whoosh" at the combined TIAA/UTD Retiree Association meeting on Sept. 11 where Dr. James Carter discussed "The Geology of the Moon" and how he made moon dust to support NASA.

LPA Tribute Honors Lee Kitchens

By Ed Millis

Leave it to Max Post to take a phone call from Lois Lamb — a long-time neighbor, friend and grade-school teacher — and turn it into an event involving TIAA retiree volunteers, the Little People of America's National Conference and a slide show tribute to Lee Kitchens.

Seems that the LPA and TI shared a common friend in Lee, who worked at TI for 38 years and was a LPA past president. Lee, at a bit less than four feet tall, had been an early and active member.

Max and Lois cooked up a Lee Kitchens Tribute for the Little People's convention banquet June 14 at the Sheraton Dallas Hotel. Max also organized TIAA retirees to assist at the convention sign-up desks. Then he put together the 20-minute presentation, A Tribute to Lee Kitchens, to be narrated by himself, Lois, and two of Lee's many friends at TI, Claude Head and me.

The dinner was excellent, but to me the highlight was getting to meet and talk with some of the nearly 2,000 LPA members who were in Dallas for this worldwide event. There was a huge variety of people and interests. At dinner, I sat next to a chemical engineer who was conveniently consulting in Georgetown, Texas. Later, I was introduced to a nattily dressed couple from England, where the husband had a comedy talk show.

Lee's TI Career

Lee was well known at TI as an engineer, and we had worked in the same areas for a number of years. I thought I knew him well, but after seeing the history Max had unearthed for our presentation, I found I was wrong. I knew that Lee had a BS in Electrical Engineering from Southern Methodist University, was an LPA member for many years, and had worked with Claude to develop the first computer-managed LPA membership list. I knew he had worked in the calculator groups, flew a Piper Tripacer airplane, had retired to the Lubbock area, and drove the only Rolls-Royce in Ransom Canyon.

What didn't I know about Lee? He was project manager for the SR-50, TI's first advanced scientific calculator. He became engineering manager for all of TI's consumer products, and toured the world. He was a Professional Engineer in the state of Texas, and was named Outstanding Engineer of the Year in 1978. Lee closed out his TI connections as visiting professor at Texas Tech, where in 1988 he received a prestigious teaching award.

Lee's Community Leadership

Lee was president of the LPA for two terms, 1964-1968, and was membership vice president at the time of his death in 2003. He was involved in the fight for legislation that resulted in the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) in 1990, and for 26 years worked on the Human Growth Foundation, serving as president 1988-1991. He was on the Goals for Dallas program, served as director of The United Cerebral Palsy Association in Dallas, and was scoutmaster of his son's troop.

After Lee and his family moved to Lubbock, they built a house in Ransom Canyon. This led to Lee becoming a two-term alderman and five-term mayor of the town. He was an officer and director of the South Plains Food Bank and an active member of the Rolls-Royce Owners' Club.

Lee left many friends and a strong legacy of his work at TI, his association with the Little People of America and his heavy involvement in the community. Lee filled his space on this earth in an extraordinary way.

Lee and Mary Kitchens are shown in their Piper Tripacer airplane. Both were licensed pilots.

TIAA CIT Volunteers Work on Hygiene Kits

When the TIAA Community Involvement Team met Aug. 22 to volunteer for the Shoes for Orphan Souls project, they did not sort shoes.

Instead, CIT members checked hygiene kits for children and then boxed and labeled them to go out of the country. Each kit held soap, shampoo, comb, Band-Aids, washcloth and towel, toothpaste and toothbrush. Also, each kit contained a toy, book or stuffed animal.

Barbara Taylor, CIT co-chair, said, "We had a great time and enjoyed this as much as sorting shoes. The Shoes for Orphan Souls team is very organized and efficient. We packed about 200 kits (two pallets full). And then we cleaned everything up, put things away and left the work area as clean as when we came. Good volunteers!"

CIT volunteers Peg Ripple, Linda Stopani and Joe Crawford work on kits.

Consolver Profile

From 1994 to 2009, he served as director of Strategy Process for the TI Strategy Leadership Team (SLT). His primary focus was helping transform TI into a leading global semiconductor company for communication, consumer, and industrial applications.

TIAA, CIT Involvement

George took the February 2009 voluntary retirement program and bridged to his official retirement date of April 2010. Meanwhile, he joined the TI Alumni Association in April 2009 and became the first TIAA Community Involvement Team (CIT) chair. He was elected TIAA president at the 2012 annual meeting.

"Our CIT focus," George said, "is to serve the community through groups of TIAA members providing assistance, using The Senior Source as our primary coordination agency. TI has set a great example over the years in supporting our communities. TIAA CIT continues in this tradition.

"We have had a great group of people who meet to plan and they go out as a team to serve others. One example was helping seniors save money on electricity by installing CFL bulbs to replace incandescent bulbs. Other outings included working with food banks, packing supplies for disaster relief, and helping prepare shoes and socks for distribution in overseas orphanages."

George said TIAA is an ideal way to stay connected with former and active TIers. TIAA offers many opportunities, including travel, education, and service as well as support of The Senior Source, which serves seniors in Dallas and Collin Counties.

He is on the Advisory Board of the Perot Museum of Nature and Science in Dallas, the Industrial Advisory Board for the Erik Jonsson School of Engineering and Computer Science at The University of Texas at Dallas and the Advisory Board for the Center for Global Business Studies at Pennsylvania State University. He serves in his local church, working with different ministry teams as well as teaching on occasion.

George and Peggy Consolver recently celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary. Their son, Andrew Consolver of Plano, TX, and wife, Charlye, have two children – Caitlin, 12, and Ben, 10. Their daughter, Dana Consolver White of Ennis, TX, is married to Bobby Jack White. They have three children – Jackson, 10, Reid, 9, and Presley, 6.

Travel

Nov. 24, Dickens of a Christmas – Saturday, 2:30 - 8 p.m., McKinney. Let's ride our bus to McKinney's premier festival, the 32nd annual Dickens of a Christmas. This event has an old fashioned, Victorian Christmas atmosphere with horse-drawn carriages, traveling carolers, visits with Santa Claus, a Christmas-tree lighting ceremony and activities for all ages. We will leave at 2:30 p.m., do some of that holiday shopping that can be done in one place with over 100 boutiques, art galleries, bookstores, apparel stores, gift shops, and antique stores. We will eat dinner at a café of our choice and be back by 8 p.m. Cost of transportation is $10 for members and $11 for nonmembers.

Dec. 1, Norwegian Country Christmas Tour – Saturday, 9 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., Clifton/Cransfield Gap. Let's experience "The Norwegian Capital of Texas" as they hold their annual event to usher in the holiday season. Tour the Bosque Museum, which will be beautifully decorated to reflect the Norwegian heritage of the community; enjoy "The Arts of Christmas" at the Bosque Arts Center; browse the Heritage Village filled with dozens of vendor booths showcasing foods, arts and crafts; and experience an authentic Norwegian lunch at the Clifton Civic Center. We will leave at 9 a.m. and be back by 4:30 p.m. Cost of admission, lunch and bus transportation is $30 for members and $33 for nonmembers.

Dec. 13, Rankin Brothers Christmas Concert – Thursday, 6 p.m. – Meet us at the Dos Banderas Tex-Mex Restaurant at 614 Main Street in Garland to enjoy great food (at our own expense) and then walk or drive a block or two to attend the 8 p.m. concert at the Granville Arts Center at Fifth and Austin Streets. Part of the Rankin Brothers Christmas Concert will keep you captivated by impersonations of famous singers, tributes and comedy! The last part will be devoted to Christmas themes and songs. This show has received over 20 awards in the last four years and features classics from Rock-n-Roll, Country, Folk, and Gospel genres. Cost is $25 for members and $28 for nonmembers. Tickets are limited to the first 25, so please call soon.

Jan. 9, Dead Sea Scrolls & Bible Exhibit – Wednesday, 9 a.m. - 2:30 p.m., Southwest Baptist Theology Seminary, Fort Worth. We've known about them since 1947 so let's go see the scrolls which were discovered in caves on the western shore of the Dead Sea. They were probably hidden during the First Jewish Revolt against the occupying Romans in A.D. 66-70, when Qumran was destroyed and abandoned. Carbon-14 testing and handwriting analysis confirmed that they date between 250 B.C. and A.D. 70. The survival of the scrolls for so many centuries is astounding. This exhibit is one of the largest exhibitions of these scrolls ever presented in the U.S and consists of 21 scroll fragments and other antiquities. There are 12 fragments on display that have been held privately and never publicly displayed before. We will leave at 9 a.m., tour at 10:20, enjoy lunch at our own expense and return about 2:30 p.m.

Jan. 17, Pegasus Theater Presents XSR:Die! – Thursday, 7:30 - 10 p.m., Eisemann Center, Richardson. Harry Hunsacker returns with yet another hilarious adventure. XSR:Die! (in theatre lingo, this means to Exit Stage Right and die) takes place backstage at a Broadway theatre. It is opening night of a new play, the author makes last-minute changes, a shot rings out and someone falls dead! Harry, a would-be actor and detective, has stumbled into the wrong theatre, and things just get a lot more complicated. Living Black & White™ is a technique developed at Pegasus Theatre which, through the use of makeup, special lighting, costumes and sets creates an illusion that you are watching a 1930s black-and-white movie brought to life on stage. We will meet at the Eisemann Center (DART light rail is only one block away and a parking garage is attached to the Center) at 7:30 p.m. and the performance will be over by 10 p.m. Cost is $20 for members and $22 for nonmembers.

See www.tialumni.org/travel/ for more detailed and updated information. All trips depart from and return to the Dallas Texins Activity Center unless otherwise noted. Each TIAA member may bring one guest at the member price. Others may join us at the nonmember price. Please register and pay (by check only) at least seven days prior to the event by contacting the TIAA office at admin@tialumni.org or 214-567-8444. Mail check to TIAA, PO Box 740181, Dallas, TX 75374.

TIAA members set up our picnic in the reserved pavilion at Samuel-Grand Park on Sept. 20 as the crew makes last-minute adjustments on the Macbeth set in the background.
